OFFICE OF VICTIM SERVICES

DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE JUSTICE

“The Office of Victim Services will deliver with compassion, a continuum of comprehensive services that promote victims’ rights and supports statewide victim services programs; through the delivery of timely, accurate and informative services; while promoting safer communities for citizens of Georgia.”

OFFICE OF VICTIM SERVICES

Each year, thousands of Georgians are affected by crime. These crimes impact individuals, families, communities and businesses. The State of Georgia is committed to ensuring that victims are afforded their rights as provided by the Georgia Crime Victims Bill of Rights.

BECAUSE YOU MATTER

People react to being a victim of crime in different ways depending on the extent or severity of the pain and loss. Being victimized often has an understandably profound emotional and psychological effect. Know that you are a valued and important part of the administration of justice.

"I didn't know anything about the juvenile justice system. I didn't know what my rights were or how to find services."

-Victim

The Department of Juvenile Justice will work to insure that victims of juvenile crimes will remain informed and educated on services and programs, their rights and the criminal justice system.

To further enhance services provided to crime victims, DJJ has joined 11 other state agencies to form the Multi-Agency Victim Services Partnership, which works to restore dignity, safety and well being to crime victims by providing leadership, guidance and information to them and their families. They work together to help crime victims and their families by providing seamless quality services to every victim every time.

VICTIMS' RIGHTS

The Georgia Crime Victims Bill of Rights

provides individuals who are victims of certain crimes specific rights. These rights include:

- The right to reasonable, accurate, and timely notice of any scheduled court proceedings or any changes to such proceedings;
- The right to reasonable, accurate, and timely notice of the arrest, release, or escape of the accused;
- The right not to be excluded from any scheduled court proceedings, except as provided by law;
- The right to be heard at any scheduled court proceedings involving the release, plea, or sentencing of the accused;
- The right to file a written objection in any parole proceedings involving the accused;
- The right to confer with the prosecuting attorney in any criminal prosecution related to the victim;
- The right to restitution as provided by law;
- The right to proceedings free from unreasonable delay; and
- The right to be treated fairly and with dignity by all criminal justice agencies involved in the case.

HOW CAN WE HELP?

THE GEORGIA DEPARTMENT OF JUVENILE JUSTICE:

- Afford victims of juvenile crime their rights under the law.
- Provide victims with information regarding the criminal justice process;
- Acts as liaisons on behalf of the victim;
- Upon request, provide victims with updated information regarding outstanding restitution and inform the victim of their civil remedies to seek unpaid balance of restitution.
- Assist victims by acting as a referral source to available services.
- Upon request, notify victims of serious and violent crimes of a youthful offenders release or escape from secure confinement settings.

YOUR ROLE

- As a victim, you have the right to be involved in writing and in person if you wish.
- By completing the Victim Impact Statement, you can describe how the crime has affected you and your family.
- In order for the department to properly notify you of a youthful offenders release or escape, it is important to provide the department with up to date contact information. Please call or email the Office of Victim Services to update contact information. Your contact information will be kept confidential.

"I thought notification was automatic."
